A Singular and Dangerous Match.— In a New York paper we find the following statement of a match between the celebrated Captain John Travis and Mr. Samuel A. Sydam, of New York :

"Travis bets Sydam $1,000 that he will find a boy who will stand at the distance of ten paces, and place an orange, not to exceed two and a half inches in diameter, in each hand and upon his head, which he (Travis) will shoot from their respective localities. No object to intervene. If Travis fails to find the boy tervene. who will stand, or fails to hit the oranges in the three shots, or at any shot touches the boy, he loses the bet. The match to be shot in Louisville, June 15th, 1858.

FAIR NOTICE.

Longer Indulgence Cannot be Given:

Let no man be taken by surprise.

THOSE indebted to us are therefore requested to come forward and make immediate payment. Gentlemen, you have our resources and you know we have been indulgent. But now we must have MONEY to pay our debts, therefore, all those who will not come forward and pay, whose liability is less than Fifty Dollars, will be notified to attend at the next Magistrate's Court; and larger sums will be sued on at the Circuit Court. Now let no one deceive himself; we wish every man who owes us that reads this notice will feel that it is specially addressed to him, and when he hears it spoken of, let him feel that it is an additional admonition to go up and pay up.—
Then no one can say or feel that he has been sued without being duly and amply notified. Come, pay your debts without cost or murmuring.
